OPEN STUDIO DAYS ADDITIONAL PROGRAM

Time to explore

This year, we would like to invite and encourage artists again to offer their own events and activities for visitors as part of the Open Studio Days - and thus invite the visitors to explore their artistic practices more in depth. The format is entirely up to you: from workshops to performances, anything is possible! However, participation should remain free of charge and should not hold up the parallel, further course of the Open Studio Days.

The submission of an event is optional.

Open Studio Days District Tours

Guided walking tours in the various districts will take visitors to different studios of the Open Studio Days. The VIENNA ART WEEK tries to include as many of the participating artists' studios as possible in one of the District Tours. However, we ask for your understanding if it should not be possible for individual studios.

Barrier-free Shuttle Tours

Shuttle tours lead visitors through selected wheelchair accessible studios in the various districts. We therefore ask for correct information on accessibility in the submission.

Social Media & Press

To introduce the participating artists on our social media channels in the months leading up to the Open Studio Days and to get to know them better, we will again offer various formats from which artists can choose.

Additionally, VIENNA ART WEEK will promote the Open Studio Days and its participants on their website, via newsletters, press relations and printed matter.
